SMART TANK!

What is a smart tank?

- OTODATA is a cellular monitoring service that can be added to any residential propane tank to make it “smart”
- these devices are installed by our qualified technicians, are maintenance free, and designed to work even in harsh conditions
- once installed, your “smart tank” digitally transmits the tank level and usage patterns to office staff where deliveries are scheduled based on monitor readings
- the Nee-Vo app is accessible for Apple and Android devices so customers can check tank levels from anywhere at any time
